DECISION HISTORY

At its meeting of February 14, 2014, during discussion of Agenda Item 23, Electronic Dance Music Concerts ("EDMCs"), the Board requested a report for the information of the Board on the issue of potential Board liability for incidences at EDMCs held on the grounds was raised, and in particular any Board liability for accidents or incidences related to illegal drug activities.

ISSUE BACKGROUND

In the 1990s there was a growing rave scene in Toronto and in 1999 the City implemented a protocol for raves held on City property. In 1999 20-year old Ryerson student Allen Ho overdosed on Ecstasy at an illicit underground rave and died. The resulting Inquest into the Death of Allen Ho proposed 19 recommendations to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future. In response to the Inquest recommendations, City Council adopted a number of recommendations, including specific authorization for Exhibition Place to hold raves, provided certain conditions respecting security and safety had been met.

Exhibition Place has adopted its own policies regarding safety at large events hosted in its facilities, and in particular with regards to the EDMCs and other large dance parties. Exhibition Place policies and protocol requirements are set out in specific documents, including the Exhibition Place, Requirements for Safety: A Manual for Show Managers and Event Planners, the Direct Energy Centre Event Guide (including the Event Preparedness Plan) and Exhibition Place Facility Requirements for EDM & Dance Parties. These are made requirements of the EDMC event holders.
